A close-up photograph of a person's face, focusing on the eye, nose, and mouth area. Several acupuncture needles are inserted into the skin: one near the inner corner of the eye, one on the forehead, one on the nose, and one near the mouth. The background is a soft, out-of-focus grey.

Post foundation course in Dental Acupuncture

Overview:

This course is a second part of the dental acupuncture course for delegates who have attended the foundation course.

Combination of both theory and practical hands on elements will enable delegates to deepen their knowledge and confidence in practicing dental acupuncture safely. Delegates will also enhance treatment planning and needling skills for conditions of head and neck area such as Xerostomia, TMJ related migraines, atypical facial pain and burning mouth syndrome.

For full aims, objectives, learning outcomes and to reserve your place visit the maxcourse website: www.maxcourse.co.uk/henw

Refunds will only be given up to 4 weeks prior to the course date. However, places can be transferred between colleagues if necessary at any time.
