

OCCLUSION: Why, When, How?

Paul HR Wilson
BSc(Hons) BDS(Hons) MSc FDSRCPS FDS(RestDent) DipDSed
Consultant & Specialist in Restorative Dentistry
Bristol Dental Hospital & The Royal United Hospital Bath

Monday 4 October, 2010
Postgraduate Medical Centre, Bath

- 08.45 Registration & Tea
- 09.00 Introduction
- 09.15 Why? : Applied biodental science
- 09.45 Why? : Maxillo-mandibular relationships demystified
- 10.45 Coffee & Discussion
- 11.00 How? : The retruded mandible
- 11.45 How? : Hands-on session 1
- 12.30 Lunch & Discussion
- 13.00 How? : Hands-on session 2
- 13.45 How? : Equipment
- 15.00 Tea & Discussion
- 15.15 When? : Clinical applications and problem solving
- 16.25 Conclusions & consensus
- 16.30 Close

By the end of the session participants should be able to:

- To understand the importance and role of occlusal theory in contemporary restorative dentistry
- Be able to diagnose and select appropriate occlusal schemes for challenging clinical situations
- Have a practical understanding of occlusal equipment and their use and abuse