

Tim Huckstep

Tim Huckstep has been a Diagnostic Radiographer for 6 years almost all of which have been in the dental arena.

His first 3 ½ years were spent working at the University Dental Hospital Cardiff under Mr. Nick Drage, a leading Head and Neck Radiologist. During his time there, he helped teach/supervise on the Undergraduate Dental course and on the Dental X-ray course for Dental Nurses.

Since then he has worked at Derriford Hospital as Lead Radiographer and Radiation Protection Supervisor in the Maxillo-Facial and Dental Specialties department.

He is currently studying for a CT Facial Bone and Sinus Reporting qualification with the intent of becoming a Reporting Radiographer.

He enjoys spending time with his wife and two children and training for Triathlons!
